

Lemont

The French country cottage fixes in our minds when we think of a place away from today's fast paced living; where time was plentiful and everything was made with a quality that seemed eternal.

The Lemont collection strives for authenticity. It doesn't just show a façade but is genuine in both appearance and construction.

Take yourself back with a collection that is truly exquisite.

The Lemont Collection from Zocalo brings you back to olden France to the times of country living.

The expert craftsmanship involved in manually distressing the painted solid teak ensures that each piece is unique, bursting with character and full of life.

In its carefully crafted details, the Lemont collection takes you back to a different way of life where your house becomes a family home with furniture that transcends generations.
